Dear Colleagues:

Dr. Gayle Bolt Price, Director of the University Writing Center and Coordinator of Writing Across Curriculum at Gardner-Webb University, will lead a half-day workshop on Friday, January 4, 2002. Dr. Price will provide an introduction to the theory and practice of Writing Across the Curriculum. She will discuss such topics as using student writing to enhance student learning, designing writing assignments that advance course objectives, and developing strategies for grading writing assignments fairly and easily.

Dr. Price is the Chair of the Department of English Language and Literature at Gardner-Webb. She earned her doctorate in English Education at Auburn University and has fond memories of previous visits to Mobile and Gulf Shores. Dr. Price has taught at Clemson University, Furman University, the University of South Carolina, and Auburn University where she was also Co-Director of the Sun-Belt Writing Project.

Dr. Price was recommended by Dr. Margaret Davis, who saw her give two presentations at last summer’s National Writing Across the Curriculum Conference.

The day will begin at 9:00 with coffee and pastries outside Quinlan Hall 216, and the workshop will conclude by 12:30 p.m. Please RSVP to Cheryl Kirkland (x2262; kirkland@shc.edu) by December 20, 2001.

I hope that you will be able to join us for this post-holiday gathering!

Sincerely,

Noreen M. Carrocci

Name: _____________________________________________

_____ I plan to attend the January 4 workshop.

_____ I do not plan to attend the January 4 workshop.